Christian apologetics is the intellectual defense for the truth of the Christian faith. Many Christians tend to get a bit passionate when defending something they hold near and dear to their heart. Put simply, apologetics is the rational response against the objections people raise against Christianity. And over the course of 2,000 years, there have certainly been a few objections! If you would like to be able to give a reasoned response to such objections instead of feeling frustrated, folding your arms and being unable to engage in the conversation, then this workshop has something to offer you!

Come and join in the workshop. Become someone who is equipped to give an answer to the faith you hold so dearly.
